

The Man From Brainco

Are you sick and tired of high electricity bills?

Do you want to do something about it? Well now you can! Now you can tap into Nature's own electric dynamo, the human brain!

It's a scientific fact! The human brain generates oodles of electricity!

Now, I know what you're asking. . . How can I get this electricity from my brain . . . to the washing machine? Well hold onto your hats! Because Brainco, that company that brought you the Glo-Dome, is pleased to announce the development of the very latest in bio-digital brain interfaces. . . the Electro brain!

Looks like a headband . . . ! Works like a miracle . . . !

What's it do? Does everything! Runs the vacuum. . . makes coffee . .

Watch this!

(He produces and electrical cord with a plug on the end and plugs it into receptacle mounted on headband over the center of his forehead. Other end of cord is attached to an electric razor or battery operated radio which turns on)

See? It's easy! Now, how much would you expect to pay for a little gizmo like this? Nine-ninety nine? Ninety-nine, ninety nine? Well, forget it! Because if you act now, you pay only ninety nineting nine, that's right, I said, nine, nine, niner. And . . . if you act now, Brainco will include this twelve-volt adaptor plug.

Have you ever been stuck in your car at night at winter. . . with a dead battery? Now you can jumpstart that car with your own brain!

So run, don't walk to the phone right now and call B-R-A-I-N-C-O that's B-R-A-I-N-C-O! The company with your brain in mind!
